ADJUSTMENTS (EXPLAIN FULLY)

BALANCE (COL. 7 MUST AGREE WITH COL. 8)

In a small collection of prayers by young Africans, entitled "I Lie on My Mat and Pray," there is this prayer from a Chief:

Give Me a Clear Head.

Now I am sitting here at my desk and the din of the day is around me
But even here you are Lord, and I beg you for your blessing on my work.

Give me strength, so I can do what must be done.

And may it be good, not just a hit-or-miss job.

And you know, too, that decisions must be made tonight.

They are always very difficult, and I am dealing with men,

Make plain the right decisions.

Give me a clear head and a warm heart.

And it is always so hard to issue orders and regulations;
give me your power and humility, so that they will be rightly issued and received.

Let me never forget that the workers are my brothers, that in your eyes they are much more than I am.

They all have families, honor, feelings, and rights.

Let me never forget that they are first of all men, add then workers.

I am sure that when you are with me my work will succeed for the welfare of men, the well-being of my family, and your glory. ~~men~~.

Give those, O God, who sit in Council here and in every council of every town and city across the world Clear Heads and Warm Hearts, and a sense of awe and humility at the size of the task which always lies before us as we seek to make of our jungles gardens where once again men might learn to live with one another, and where Justice and Honor and Integrity might gain currency once more!

Amen.
